Abstract
Just when you thought all there was to cyber-terrorism was viruses and worms, think again. Ever since September 11, 2001 our country is facing one of its biggest challenges. You as a business owner or IT professional need to be aware of these challenges. Protecting yourself from terrorism by securing the way you use the internet is the first step.

Laurie Nenortas, CEO of Accurate Information Services, INC. AccurateInfo.com was created 7 years ago. It is one of the leaders in providing secured web sites. Her clients diversification run from E-Trade to Exxon to DeBeers Diamonds. Laurie’s company has been able to address their client’s needs no matter how big or small. With over 30 years of Internet experience, in today’s marketplace it is difficult to find someone with her vast array of knowledge and services. With our country’s added need for security, Laurie Nenortas provides a one-stop resource for all your Internet needs.
